Albion, NY: Hospice of Orleans is excited to announce the appointment of Orleans County native, Kellie Spychalski to the role of CEO for the organization.

“I am honored and excited to have been selected to serve as the CEO for the Hospice of Orleans County. I wholeheartedly believe that people should be empowered to make their own health care decisions including end of life care. Hospice of Orleans is a wonderful organization which provides outstanding care and support to people faced with life-limiting illness and their loved ones. My family and several of our close friends have seen first-hand the impact that Hospice has on families during some of the most challenging times in their lives. I look forward to working with the Board of Directors, staff, donors, community partners and the many caring and dedicated volunteers who make Hospice such a great organization and true asset to our community.”

The Board enthusiastically selected Kellie after review of her education and experience which includes a MS in Health Care Administration, BS in Organizational Management from Roberts Wesleyan College, an AAS in Human Services from GCC, as well as a 30 year career in the field of human services in roles ranging from direct hands-on care to Corporate Compliance to Executive Director, most recently working with The Arc of Orleans County and Opportunities Unlimited of Niagara. Mrs. Spychalski is invested even further in our community with her service on several Boards including Board of Education in Holley as well as Orleans Community Health.

Mrs. Spychalski resides in Holley with her husband Ron and is mother to 2 adult sons. “I am excited about working together to continue to meet the needs of Orleans County residents and expand services and opportunities which enhance people’s quality of life. Together we will build on the many successes Hospice has experienced over the past 25 years.”
